At Allied Insurance, our business is protecting your most valuable assets. In this case, it's you. If you're affected by identity theft, you'll need more than just financial relief.

What is identity theft?

It's when your personal identification information (including name, social security number, driver's license number, bank account or credit card numbers) is used by another person in committing a felony.

Here are some facts to keep in mind:

- Identity theft is one of the fastest-growing crimes in the country.
- Identity theft requires victims to spend on average 175 hours resolving problems related to the situation.

Coverage highlights

Allied will pay up to $25,000, with no deductible, to cover expenses you incur to restore your good name, including:

- Costs of executing affidavits
- Costs of certified mail
- Lost income (maximum $250 per day, total of $5,000)
- Loan re-application fees
- Attorney fees
- Costs of long distance phone calls

Get your identity back

Through a partnership with Europ Assistance, you can take advantage of additional services 24 hours a day, seven days a week. With one phone call to 866-451-7605, you'll be put in touch with an experienced professional who can:

- Assist you in identifying fraudulent accounts
- Help place a "fraud alert" on your credit reports
- Report your ID theft to the Federal Trade Commission
- Notify credit-reporting agencies
- Contact creditors on your behalf
- Help you file a police report
- Help you replace your driver's license, passport, Social Security card, or any other identification documents
- Provide an emergency cash advance if theft occurs away from home
- Offer legal support, translation services, and emotional support to help alleviate stress and anxiety

Free credit monitoring

You can also sign up for free credit monitoring that keeps a constant eye on your credit report, and alerts you immediately to any critical changes. You'll receive a free TransUnion credit report when you enroll. Just log on to our website, alliedinsurance.com, to sign up for this free service.

Anyone can have their identity stolen. If it happens to you, Allied Insurance and Worldwide Assistance can be there to help get your life—and your finances—back on track.
